GLADSTONE'S SPEECH.

TORY SPEAKERS AND PAPERS COMMENT ON IT.

What Mr. Russell, the Irish Unionist, is Quoted as Saying—The London Times to Have an Opponent—The Situation in Italy.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Tory speakers and newspapers continue their rabid comment on Mr Gladstone's Newcastle speech, and still make as their most salient point the fact that he once advocated the cause of the Southern confederacy. Mr. Russell, the well-known Irish Unionist, is quoted as saying: "Mr. Gladstone is no doubt as sincere now in advocating the disunion for Great Britain and Ireland as he was advocating disunion for America, and he is just as incapable of seeing the consequences now of what he advocates as he was in the case of the American North and South. He is perfectly willing to place at the mercy of the Irish disunion the majority of the loyal minority that have always been faithful to Great Britain. What he means by saying that it is now a question dealing with the Irish people nobody can understand but himself. It has never been anything else, and the Irish people to-day would be content and prosperous but for the utterances of men like Mr. Gladstone." Mr. Russell said Mr. Gladstone had now taken disunion for his personal policy, and wished to cram it down the throats both of Liberals and Tories.

PROPOSED NEW PAPER.

The Tories are to have another newspaper. Mr. J. Blundell Maple, M.P., and Lord Radner are credited with the ambition to start a new Tory threepenny daily as a rival to the Times The price would prevent the newspaper from making any headway with the masses who do not care to pay more than one penny for a daily newspaper, so that the new Tory daily if started will have to look for circulation among the weathy and well to do. Blundell Maple is about 44 years of age and a son of a wealthy dealer in furniture. He had been making considerable noise in various directions. Earl Radner is treasurer of Her Majesty's household but it is not likely that any of Her Majesty's money will go into the newspaper enterprise. It is whispered, however, that Radner is an intimate friend of the Prince of Wales and that the prince may be anxious for an organ, especially as he is known not to have been pleased with the comments of the Times on the Wilson-Cummings trial.

LABOR CANDIDATES.

The Tories view with considerable satisfaction the organization on Sunday of a political labor association for the purpose of securing the election of labor candidates. It is considered that the new association will embarrass the Liberals by making more demands than the Liberal party can agree to and that in this way many votes will be gained for the Conservatives. How this will turn out remains to be seen.

AN EARLE DEAD.

The late Earl of Portsmouth was a fair representative of titled aristocracy, leading a quiet life but no use to anybody but himself. He was descended from one of the "Regicide Judges" who after the restoration of Charles II was hauled around the city with a halter around his neck and then imprisoned for life. From this ancestor probably the earl inherited his Whig principles and then transmitted them to his son who has sat for about 10 years in Parliament. The son is a prig in manner but has some ability. The death of the earl is said to have been caused by a fit of temper in connection with his son-in-law.

TURBULENCE IN ROME.

A Rome dispatch says that the streets were filled to-day by people shouting for the king, mingled with the cries against the pilgrims and the Pope. The day passed off however without any violence. In Naples similar scenes were enacted. In Milan the people threatened violence to some foreigners who refused to join in the expressions of loyalty and in Florence the French residents thought it prudent to remain in doors. Everywhere the greatest devotion was expressed to the royal family and the cause of Italian unity. The incident in the Pantheon raised a flame that shot like wild-fire from one end of the Peninsula to the other.

THE SHALLOW RHINE.

The river Rhine continues to fall and navigation is about at an end owing to the shallowness of the stream.

THE EASTBOURNE MOB.

The Eastbourne army again came forth to battle yesterday and were again attacked by the mob and rescued by the police.

SENECAL RETURNS.

He Says Most of the Boodle went into the Election Funds.

Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Andre Senecal, ex-superintendent of the printing bureau who escaped to the States to prevent his being arrested by the sergeant-at-arms, returned to the city to-day. He says he spent the greater part of the time in the Western States, shooting. He will take up his residence in Montreal. He says he got very little of the boodle, as it went to the election funds.

BEHRING SEA.

The Rush Going Back to Keep Watch on the Borealis.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Orders were telegraphed from the treasury to day for the revenue cutter Rush, now at San Francisco, to return at once to the Seal Islands, and remain there till the last of December. The Rush returned from the Seal Islands last week, reaching San Francisco last Friday. Instructions were sent the Rush during the latter part of August to retmain at the Seal Islands until further orders, but by some mistake the orders were not delivered. The fact that there are many poaching vessels in Behring Sea awaiting an opportunity to take seals is well known at the treasury department. The revenue cutter Bear is now at Seal Islands, but it cannot effectively police the sea alone. It will take the Rush about ten days to reach the Seal Islands.

More Boodle in Canada.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 5.—The story that Wm. Livsey, the missing ex-cashier of the state treasury, whose evidence is wanted by the legislature investigating committee, is in Canada is generally credited here. Mr. Livsey's father lives in Canada and it is thought that he went there when he was discovered in Milwaukee. It is understood that the state authorities want him badly and as a consequence little surprise was expressed when it became known that Pattison and other state officials are arranging to secure his extradition. Governor Pattison was asked on what charge Livsey would be arrested in Canada in order to secure his extradition, but declined to say anything on the subject and said he preferred not to be quoted. The governor remarked casually that Livsey was wanted and his manner betokened that at the proper time there would be brought out evidence strong enough to secure his extradition. It is said that the matter is in the hands of the Attorney-General.

Another Big Daily.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The Chicago Daily Press Company has completed its organization. Robt Laidblom is president of the company and Max Polacheck, general manager and treasurer. The entire capital stock, $100,000 has been subscribed and allotted. The first issue will appear on Sunday morning. It is understood that the paper will boom Carter Harrison for the next mayoralty and will oppose Cleveland's renomination.

Russia's Warlike Preparations.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 3.—An imperial ukase has been issued with instructions to the Cossack population in the Ural districts to hold their horses ready at the various military centres. This action is taken so that the horses may be at the disposal of the Russian government in the event that a mobilization of troops is found necessary.

Another London Dock Strike.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A great dock strike began this morning and is already rapidly spreading. Trouble is feared between the strikers and "blacklegs" and an extraordinarily large police force is on duty to preserve order. Carmen and others in sympathy with the discontented dockers have also gone on strike.

Another Battenberg.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Princess Beatrice, the ninth and youngest daughter of Queen Victoria, and wife of Prince Henry of Battenberg, has been delivered of a son.

Not Credited.

BINGHAMPTON, N.Y., Oct. 5.—It is announced here that Lieut.-Governor Edward F. Jones is becoming blind. The report is not given much credence.

Card of Thanks.

The firemen of Victoria are thankful to the undermentioned ladies and gentlemen for baskets of flowers for decorating the engines, truck and reels: Mrs. M. Young, Mrs. D. R. Harris, Mrs. H. M. Wright, Mrs. T. Kinsey, Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. T. Geiger, Mrs. A. J. McLellan, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. S. W. Gray, Mrs. S. King, Mrs. Helmcken, Mrs. Gregg, Mrs. W. Haynes, Mrs. F. J. Williams, Mrs. H. Saunders, Mrs. C. Bossi, Mrs. Tyler, Mrs. J. B. Harrison, Miss Woodhall, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. G. Maynard, Mrs. Medans, Mrs. M. Roarke, Mr. J. Lery and others whose names are unknown to the firemen.

A special meeting of the City Council will be held this evening to dispose of unfinished business.

LIBERAL FEDERATION.

MR. GLADSTONE AT THE NEWCASTLE CONGRESS.

His Remarks on the Questions of the Day—Local Government—The House of Lords—Labor's Interests—Irish Home Rule—Some Press Comments.

NEWCASTLE, Oct. 3.—Mr. Gladstone's speech in the Tyneside theatre last night was listened to by a great gathering and the veteran leader received an ovation. At the commencement of his speech he pointed to the brightening prospects of the Liberals and thought victory was not far distant. With regard to foreign affairs, he said the policy of the present administration had been well nigh the inverse and reverse of Lord Beaconsfield. Just as the Liberals had endeavored to make the work of the Beaconsfield administration difficult because they thought it was doing ill, so they had striven to make the work of the present administration, in its foreign policy, easy, because they thought, so far as information went, that its spirit had undergone a beneficial change. "I shall indeed rejoice," continued Gladstone, "if before the day comes for this administration to give up the ghost it will be possible for Lord Salisbury to make an effort to relieve us of the burdensome and embarrassing occupation of Egypt, which, as long as it lasts must be a cause of weakness."

Gladstone spoke a word of congratulation and hope in regard to the temperance question, reviewing the work, and added: "Those approaching my period of life may not witness it, but many of you will see a thorough and efficient reform of the laws connected with the traffic in alcohol, with acknowledgment of the right of local populations to settle the question, whether within their borders public houses shall exist." (Cheers.)

Touching the question of the abolition of hereditary peers, Gladstone said it is at present rather in the shade, owing to the priority of the claims of other subjects. He should not be sorry if it would remain in the shade longer, provided the lease were gained by forbearance and wisdom in dealing with public sentiment. He warned the House of Lords, however, that it might make the matter a burning question if the peers were tempted to listen to the council given by Lord Salisbury when he contemplated the possibility of a Liberal victory, and reminded them that all would not be over, even if the commons should pass the home rule bill; that the house of lords might interpose itself between the judgment of the nation and the incorporation of that judgment in the form of law. The lords tried that ruse in 1831, throughout the proceedings on the reform bill, and underwent humiliation. Gladstone himself, in 1860 and 1861, had the felicity to be in conflict with the lords, who had, he said, made a great battle upon the repeal of the paper duties, one of the most difficult and important questions in the whole free trade controversy. "You know what the consequences have been of the establishment of a free press, which has done more than any other single cause to educate the country, and to which we mainly owe the vast extension of the franchise. Should the lords be seduced to accept the deplorable suggestion of Salisbury they themselves will be first to repent it."

Mr. Gladstone said the labor representation in Parliament must be extended. Those charged with the management of the affairs of the party will exhibit the utmost disposition to assist wherever a constituency is found favorable to the claims of the labor candidates. The constituency must bear the cost of the residence of these labor representatives in London. Nothing can be clearer than the title of such members to receive such aid from the public treasury as will enable them to discharge the task imposed upon them for the public benefit. Furthermore, it is among the indispensable duties of the Liberal party when in power to establish district and parish councils to bring self-government to the door of the laboring man throughout the country, and to enact compulsory powers enabling suitable bodies to acquire land, in order to place the rural population in nearer relations to use and profit from the land they have so long tilled for the benefit of others. (Great cheering). Coming down to the question of the hours of labor, Gladstone said he viewed with satisfaction the large reductions in the amount of toil exacted which his fellow citizens had achieved in the last twenty years. He wished well to all further reductions it may be possible to achieve without violation of the rights of any man. Before assenting to the principle of a compulsory law bidding laborers to reduce labor to a certain number of hours daily, he was glad to see a demonstration that these who now received low wages for long hours are to receive at least better wages for shorter. He would give no absolute judgment upon the question, but recommended much circumspection, much careful examination before proceeding with steps which may prove irretrievable, therefore it ought not be prematurely adopted.

On the Irish question Mr. Gladstone said: "The reputation of a country is measured by a standard easily gotten at if it means what its neighbors think of it. I condemn a Tory verdict which was long ago pronounced by England with reference to her conduct towards Ireland. Parliament will never overtake the arrears in public business until this terrible Irish policy is out of the way. In the period to come it is clear that it must be either friendship or enmity with Ireland. There has been no other alternative before England for centuries and during these ages enmity, not friendship, was chosen as the alternative. It was enmity with the states, not with the people. You have arrived at a point decisive in your history. It is for the future to say, After the next general election this enmity, if it continues, will be enmity with the people and not with the states. If Ireland is oppressed, hereafter, it will be oppressed by you, people of England. The spectacle of one people oppressing another is the saddest, the most heart-rending and humbling that can be seen on the surface of the earth. I can never believe that this great nation will place itself in such a position. In truth, this question has already been considered in some degree. A decided declaration in favor of friendship has been made in the most constitutional manner by the results of your votes. Our opponents now admit it to be something formidable. The constituencies have spoken—not only the sober, the true, the just, but also the inevitable. (Great applause.) Upon these verdicts Ireland relies. You have watched her conduct in the difficult circumstances of the past nine months, conduct which, I do not hesitate to say, has evoked in every breast a responsive voice of sympathy and of increased conviction that we may pull safely, prudently through without our fellow subjects in Ireland. When the proper season comes the general sense of this country will ratify the judgment already given at nearly a hundred points. The entire people of England will, by a great and decisive majority, determine to finally dispose of these demands now made upon them in the clearest and most audible tones, after a long and painful experience, made upon them alike by their honor, their interest and their duty before God and man."

NEWCASTLE, Oct. 3.—The presentation of the freedom of the city to Gladstone to-day was made an occasion of great ceremony. An immense audience was present in the town hall to witness the presentation and hear the speeches. Gladstone replied to the mayor's speech of presentation, and then made a general address, in which he referred to free trade at some length. In the course of his speech he said:—"Our children and kinsmen in America, to whom we have looked, and might still look to teach us many legislative lessons, have set us in this matter the example of a retrograde nation. They have thought for a moment, though I believe only for a moment, that the secret of prosperity was to be found in fixing by the government the channels in which enterprise should run and the forms in which ingenuity should be exercised." Continuing, Mr. Gladstone said:—"We had hoped that in the long run England and America would be influenced by the examples and triumph of their immediate predecessors. Although there remains much to do, a great amendment has already been achieved by the change from protection to freedom. England among the great nations of the world." Gladstone remarked, "has become almost the solitary witness of the principle of freedom, as applied to trade, as she has long been in Europe the solitary witness of principle of freedom of social and political institutions. That stewardship in regard to freedom in general we have now in regard to commerce. We are again being tested as to whether we shall be firm or not firm to our convictions; whether the time passed in finding a solution for the great economic problems has been wasted or applied to a great and beneficial work; whether free trade has been a triumph not only for the capitalists, but for the workman, whose wages have thereby been increased 50 per cent."

Upon leaving the hall Gladstone received an ovation from the immense concourse of people gathered in the vicinity. After lunch Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone started for Hawarden.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The newspapers of this city all contain exhaustive comments upon Gladstone's speech delivered at Newcastle last night.

The Times says: "Gladstone never before so completely abdicated the functions of a great leader or sunk so absolutely to the position of the mouthpiece of a political machine."

The Standard (Conservative) states: "His references to the cost of the defenses and to Egypt are most mischievous. He should be compelled to declare plainly, aye or no, whether he holds the army or navy excessive. The country will then know what to expect from his return to responsibility."

The News says: Gladstone's warning to the Tories is likely to exert wholesome influence on them. They will probably throw Lord Salisbury overboard.

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—The Freeman's Journal, in discussing Gladestone's utterances last night, expresses the opinion: "No man, after reading Gladstone's speech, can doubt for a moment his intention to pass a measure for home rule, that will be satisfactory to the Irish people, with all the dispatch that the laws of the country admit."

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—United Ireland today published an interview with Parnell, in which he contended that Gladstone in his speech proved that he followed the "swing round" of the Liberal party. Gladstone, he asserted, was in the same position as in 1886. The county council and police were side by side, while the Imperial Government controlled the constabulary. This, Parnell declared, will be a severe disappointment for the seceders.

At St. John's Church.

With a packed, almost over-crowded congregation last evening, the scene at St John's Church was indeed refreshing. The decorations for the harvest festival had been retained, and the service which was so agreeably rendered and received last Thursday evening was repeated, with the addition of the surpliced choir. There were about twelve boys' voices, all trained by Mr. Rowlands, who, with a little more time, will develop some rich material from the voices he now has. Master Robbie Powell sang the solo in the anthem very well indeed for a first attempt. Mrs. Rowlands gave another vocal solo with that taste expression for which she is well known. Indeed the service was one that will not soon be forgotten.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

ARRANGING TO CLOSE THE PARLIAMENTARY SESSION.

A Review of the Business Done During the Past Five Months.—A Busy and Eventful Session—Boodlers Brought Down—General Summary.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—The session may be prolonged for a few days discussing the last batch of the supplementary estimates, but the real work is over, and the division bell has rung for the last time during the session of 1891. It is cannot be said too often that the session has been the most eventful that has taken place since confederation. It has also been the longest one, with the exception of that of 1885, when the House sat for six months owing to the Northwest rebellion and the Franchise Bill. This year Parliament, fresh from the people, was called to meet on April 29th for the purpose of electing a speaker. It assembled on that date, when the late premier, Sir John Macdonald, proposed Mr. Peter White, of North Renfrew, to fill the chair. Hon. Mr. Laurier made no objection, although he twitted Sir John for so quickly departing from British precedent after his loud protestations of loyalty to the mother country on the stump. According to British precedent, Mr. Ouimet, the member for Laval, should have been chosen. On the following day His Excellency the Governor General delivered the speech from the throne in the red chamber in the presence of the usual crowd of Ottawa's so called aristocracy. The bill of fare was a meagre one, and meagre as it was, five months' legislation has not been sufficient to dispose of its contents. In fact, so far as legislation is concerned, no new measure of any practical benefit to the country has been placed on the statute book, but for all that, thanks to an active and determined Opposition, the session has been productive of much good.

SOME PRINCIPAL INCIDENTS.

The address was moved by Mr. Hazen, on the Friday following the day of opening, and Mr. Corbould, who who was twice elected before taking his seat, from New Westminster, B. C., seconded the same. The debate lasted for a couple of days, the trade question being the principal one discussed. There was no amendment and the first division gave the Government a majority of 27. We were told when the elections were over that they would have a majority of not less than 30, with the certainty that it would increase to about 35 before the session was over. The reverse has been the the case, and it is now nearer 20 than it was 30 in the first instance. But the inherent weakness, the incapacity for business, the incompetency, the cesspool of corruption in which they helplessly wallowed, all combined to make the administration worse off in the eyes of the people than if they had only five of a majority with some capacity, a little vitality, and a measure of honesty thrown in. The great bone of contention was pitched into the arena by Mr. Tarte on the 11th of May, when he charged Hon. Thomas McGreevy with the high crimes and misdemeanors of which he has since been found guilty, and as Mr. Laurier said, he has taken to the wilderness like a scapegoat with the sins of Israel on his back. The little man from Montmorency promised to leave the House at once if he could not establish the truth of his charges, but bad as he knew the crimes to be, they appeared far worse by the time the evidence was all in. One of the most exciting debates which occurred during the session was that on the High Commissioner. The leader of the Opposition made the attack, and his followers, feeling keenly the tactics of Tupper during the campaign, threw themselves into the fray, not only with a will and a determination but with a keenness which is seldom seen in the Canadian Parliament. The debate continued for days, and the vote stood 79 for and 100 against the amendment of Mr. Laurier, which was offered when the House was going into supply. A majority of only 21 for Tupper was nearly as bad as a defeat, and was sufficient at any rate to throw Tupper entirely into the shade when the time arrived for the party to be looking for a premier.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD'S DEATH.

The death of Sir John Macdonald, on Saturday, June 6th, at 10 o'clock at night, caused the wheels of legislation to stop and threw a cloud of mourning all over the Dominion. On Monday following, as the tears trickled down his cheeks, Sir Hector Langevin rose in his seat in the Commons, the walls of which were draped with the emblems of mourning, the old man's chair a bed of flowers and crape, with a pillow of flowers on the desk, and announced the sad news to a mournful assembly. It was not, however, given to the belted knight to pay a fitting tribute to the memory of the departed statesman, but the silver tongued Laurier. His speech on that occasion was one of the finest pieces of oratory that ever graced the pages of the Canadian Hansard. With the Premier gone, there was not much left of the Conservative party. It was a party peculiarly his own, and constructed out of such timber as he alone would have selected. The less they knew the more pliable they were likely to be in the hands of the great magician.

THE SCANDAL MILL.

When the House assembled after conveying to its last resting place all that was mortal of the late Chieftain, Sir John Thompson was able to announce that he had been asked to form an Administration, but that he did not do so, and the duty was therefore assigned to Mr. Abbott, who accepted. Mr. Bowell was entrusted with the duties of the Minister of Railways and Canals. This over, the scandal mill was soon in full running order. Nearly every day the Privileges and Elections Committee met and continued to weave the meshes around McGreevy until his fate was decided, while Sir Hector practically pleaded imbecility to free himself from the charge of corruption. The outcome of this is about a day old: McGreevy is condemned; Perley and Boyd are made scapegoats, while the Connollys are fit subjects for criminal trial, and a majority of 15, after being wined and dined and promised a share of the plunder, gave a coat of whitewash to the disgraced Minister. To recapitulate the doings of the Public Accounts Committee, where one after another of the boodlers was brought to justice, would be to narrate the large part of the work of the session. There were in the Ministerial ranks the Chapleau and Haggart exposures. The Secretary of State, it is well known, is worse than ever Sir Hector was, while Mr. Haggart is not far behind, if all were known. Mr. Cochrane, a good Tory follower, who has a novel way of distributing patronage, passed through the mills and wears a coat of whitewash.

GETTING THEIR REWARD.

While I write Parliament is discussing the granting of a post-office to West Farnham, a small village in Missisquoi Q. co., in return for Mr. Baker's votes in the Cochrane and Langevin cases. The Opposition quickly discerned this, and opposed it with all their might. Last year, it will be remembered, a resolution was put by Mr. Mills, and accepted by the Premier, declaring that some system beyond that of political exigencies ought to guide the administration in granting public buildings to any place. There is, for instance, the town of Woodstock, where there is a revenue of $15,000, and then the town of West Farnham, which produces about $1800. The latter place is about to get public buildings, while the former is not. This serves to show how little the Government care for solemn pledges made to Parliament when their own personal advantages are concerned. As trustees of the people they entered into a sacred agreement last year, and this year they proceed as if it never existed.

HOW IT STANDS.

Sir Hector Langevin—Resigned and disgraced. Hon. Mr. Chapleau—Usefulness gone. Hon. Mr. Haggart—Badly impaired.

Turning to their followers we see,—Hon. Thos. McGreevy—To the woods. Mr. Cochrane—Whitewashed patronage peddler.

In addition to these actual results there are a number of others badly injured in the fight. Hon. George Foster shows up badly in his West India steamship scandal; Hon. John Carling was brought to his knees in the Tetu matter, and smaller scandals lie at the doors of the other ministers, more particularly Hon. Mr. Dewdney, who charges the country with the expense of a butler and gets some of the other employees to make part of his furniture for him.

It would make too long a list to enumerate all the parties who have been dismissed, suspended or compelled to resign from the civil service, but it may be said briefly that the enquiries have led to the resignation of one deputy minister, while a secretary, an assistant secretary, an accountant, an assistant accountant, a chief clerk, an immigration agent, a chief engineer, and a chief architect have either been dismissed or suspended. The Opposition had no desire to carry the investigations too far against the minor officials, although a large number have been dismissed or suspended, or there would have been mighty few left to carry on the affairs of the country, so deep-seated did this cancer of corruption rest in the whole fabric of the service.

HOW CHAPLEAU'S DEBTS WERE PAID.

The following is the evidence over which there was such a fight at the Public Accounts Committee. It was given by Mr. Brooks Young, president of the New England Paper Company in the supreme court in Quebec.

Q—As a matter of fact, was there any contract with the Government? A—There was.

Q—What did it amount to?

Objected to as going outside of the pleading, as thoroughly irrelevant and not within the limit of the pleading.

Objection reserved.

A—As I remember the sales to the Government were about $1000, the profit on which was very small.

Q—What was the amount of the profit? A—I do not remember. I should say in the neighborhood of $100. At any rate there was a mistake about it. The mistake came about in this way—I will have to explain: We understood when we took the paper that we were to receive orders from the Government through Mr. Chapleau for paper in his department, of which one-half of the profits should go to pay a 10 per cent. on these notes. In that way Mr. Chapleau would not have to put his hand in his pocket to take money out, but it would be applied on this paper and his indebtedness would be cancelled without any expense to him. This was the understanding when the contract was entered into. The first order was about $1000, or something like that, and the price—

Q—I wan't to know about the profit?

A—In asking that question there is something beyond it and I would have to tell it in order to answer that question properly.

Q—I ask you what is the amount of the profit you realized? A—About $100.

SLABTOWN.

What Does It Mean?

"100 Doses One Dollar" means simply that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the most economical medicine to buy, because it gives more for the money than any other preparation. Each bottle contains 100 doses and will average to last a month, while other preparations, taken according to directions, are gone in a week. Therefore, be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier.

Peaches from the orchard of "Okanagan Smith" (two miles south of the ..., on Okanagan lake), have been selling in town lately.

The danger of selling whisky to Indians was fully exemplified in the case tried on Saturday. Six of the sawashes on the reserve who were searched by Constable Norris were armed with loaded six-shooters, and riding wild in a state of delirious intoxication. The supplier deserved every day of the sentence given him.

Mr. Fannin, curator of the Provincial Museum, is spending a few days in town. His trip to this part is not without its benefit to scientific research and the increase of the already fine natural history collection at the museum; he is especially enthusiastic over a splendid specimen of a three-legged spider he has obtained.

The new church at Enderby was opened by the Bishop of the diocese on Sunday. The dedication of the building was postponed, as it is not quite completed. The attendance was large and the choral service was heartily done through.

[From the Kootenay Star.]

Owing, no doubt, to the lightness of the snowfall for the past two winters, the waters of the Columbia River are exceedingly low, being within two inches of its lowest record, and it is feared that the steamboat traffic will have to be suspended earlier than usual on that account.

AUCTION

Wednesday, October 7th

AT 11 A.M.

ESQUIMALT DISTRICT.

VALUABLE LANDS AT

Langford Plains and Neighborhood

I have been instructed to sell by auction at my salesrooms, Fort and Langley streets,

Section 99—Containing 114 acres, more or less. This section forms part of the celebrated Langford Plains property, well known as a favorite spot for public picnics. A large part of this section is open and dry land, as level as a billiard table; the scenery is very pretty, the grounds having scattering oak trees through it, fringed with a comparatively light growth of fir and other trees in the background. This section partially fronts on the south side of a beautiful sheet of water known as Florence Lake. The Goldstream wagon road runs through the southern portion of this lot, and the E. & N. railway runs within 25 chains of the southern boundary, thus giving easy and cheap access to it.

Section 113—Containing 143 acres, more or less, adjoining and north of Section 99. This section takes in nearly the whole of Florence Lake. There is a large quantity of good limestone on a knoll at the northern boundary of this section.

These two properties are certainly the making of the finest recreation grounds in the neighborhood of Victoria City. The land in Section 99, in its native state, has no equal for a race track, cricket, baseball grounds and other sports; and the beautiful surrounding scenery is unsurpassed; the advantages of Florence Lake for boating and camping are splendid, and hunters are in the heart of a fine game country. These two sections will be sold together.

Section 112 A—Containing 68 acres, more or less.

Sections 116 and 85—Containing 141 acres, more or less. The Goldstream wagon road runs through the lots. These lots have a frontage on Langford Lake, and will be divided into four lots of about 35 acres each, and each lot will have a frontage on the lake. This property commences at the east end of the lake.

Lot 67—Containing 100 acres.
Lot 68—Containing 100 acres.

Both these lots are at the junction of the Sooke and Metchosin roads.

Terms of Sale—Half cash, balance in twelve months at seven per cent.

CONTRACTORS AND FUNDS.

The Colonist is not fortunate in its attempt to justify its remarks on the attitude of the Liberals towards public contractors. No amount of quibbling on the part of our neighbor will explain away the fact that it deliberately tried to create the impression that the Liberal press and Liberal members were opposed to the insertion of a clause in Premier Abbott's Frauds Bill making it a penal offense for public contractors to subscribe to party election funds. It was also desirous of being considered the only paper that had suggested such action. Readers of the TIMES need not be reminded that this journal has time and again condemned the practice prohibited by the clause in question. We have gone further, and condemned the getting up of "testimonials" to Ministers and members of Parliament by men who are seeking or are likely to seek favors from Parliament or any of the Departments. The Colonist knows perfectly well that the TIMES has always severely censured such practices. To show how directly our contemporary misrepresented the views of the Liberal press, we quote from the Globe, the chief journalistic exponent of Liberal principles, a most explicit demand for such an enactment as would debar campaign contributions from contractors. The Colonist now says that it did not see the article. No doubt. Our neighbor has a habit of failing to see things that are not agreeable to it. We now feel obliged to assist in further opening the Colonist's eyes. Though it could not longer venture to falsely accuse the Liberal press, in face of the quotation from the Globe, it seems still to have the idea that it may safely misrepresent the Liberal members, and that in spite of the fact that the Opposition has more than once offered resolutions in Parliament expressly condemning the practice prohibited by the clause in the Abbott bill. The Colonist yesterday said:—

If the Liberals were so desirous, as our contemporary represents, to put a stop to the practice of contractors subscribing to election funds, how is it that some of their leading men did not move the insertion of a clause making such subscription illegal? Here was an opportunity of proving their sincerity that should not have been allowed to slip. But the Times does not tell us that a single Liberal moved in the matter.

The public will see how dishonest and disingenuous this is when they learn that the clause about which the Colonist prates so much WAS PROPOSED BY MR. LAURIER. It was embodied in an amendment which the Liberal leader offered on Monday last, when the House was in committee on the bill, the amendment being accepted by the Government, with some verbal changes. What is to be said of a paper that will thus deliberately strive to falsify the position of the Liberal party, when it must have known the truth? The Colonist is a fit defender of and apologist for the boodlers at Ottawa.

WARM FRIEND OF LANGEVIN.

One of the features of the division was the advent of Dr. Charles Ferguson. He was away attending upon a relative who is dangerously ill. Last night he drove fifteen miles to the railway, and then came in on a locomotive which was sent him as a special. He arrived just in time. Prof. Weldon came all the way up from Halifax to vote. Mr. Gordon sacrificed his Pullman car tickets to Vancouver because the division was delayed a day. Mr. James Masson, of North Grey, dropped his assize work in the middle to come down and vote.

So says the Empire, in commenting on the vote in the House on the Langevin case, and after all these agonizing efforts the Government was able to secure only 15 majority for its whitewashing report. The Nanaimo people will be glad to hear that their representative was so extremely anxious to provide the chief boodler with a nice white coat that he sacrificed his sleeping-car ticket. Patriotic Mr. Gordon. We observe that Mr. Gordon, while in Vancouver on Saturday on his way home, spoke thus to an interviewing reporter:

Mr. Gordon spoke of the session as a very unpleasant one all through for both parties, and especially for the Ministerialists. Both, however, recognized that though frauds had been committed lately, the same thing had been going on when the Liberals were in power.

Unless Mr. Gordon is herein incorrectly reported, he was guilty of untruthfulness. Frauds such as those lately unearthed at Ottawa were not committed while the Liberals were in power, and Mr. Gordon is well aware of that fact.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An Ottawa dispatch informs us that before leaving Ottawa Sir Hector Langevin appeared at the office of the Parliament accountant and demanded not only his full indemnity, $1500, but also mileage to and from Quebec city, claiming that Quebec is his place of residence. That was an entirely characteristic performance on Sir Hector's part. The Tories will no doubt say he was doing quite right.

Recent advices from Newfoundland seem to indicate that the fishery dispute there is likely to be terminated by the operation of the Bait Act, which makes fishing unprofitable to the Frenchmen. The Newfoundland Government has found it impossible to entirely prevent the selling of bait to the St. Pierre fishermen, but the Act has undoubtedly crippled their business. With regard to the modus vivendi, the Newfoundland fishermen are in much the same position as the Victoria sealers, as they claim damages for having been prevented from working on the "French shore." Their claims amount in all to $20,000.

The Ontario Court of Appeal recently gave an important judgment on a test case submitted by the Attorney-General of Ontario in regard to the local option prohibition legislation of the Ontario Assembly in the session of 1890. The test case was submitted in view of the fact that Chief Justice Galt had quashed the by-laws that had been enacted by several municipalities in accordance with this legislation on the ground that all legislation was ultra vires of the Ontario Legislature. These decisions were given in April last and the opponents of prohibition immediately made application to have the prohibitory by-laws set aside, in consequence of which Attorney-General Mowat submitted the test case. There was a full court, consisting of Justices Hagarty, Osler, Burton, and MacLennan. Chief Justice Hagarty and Justices Burton and MacLennan each read long and exhaustive judgments agreeing with each other that the legislation was within the powers of the Ontario Legislature, and reversed the decision of Chief Justice Galt. Judge Osler also had a judgment prepared to the same effect, but considered it unnecessary to read it.

Just Like Mac.

Says the Vancouver World: McLean, the Westminster oarsman, who is matched for a skiff race against Ned Hanlan, is unwilling to row at the capital, where he says he would not get fair play. He is desirous that either Westminster or Vancouver should be chosen.

Not Lieutenant Webb.

It was stated in the TIMES some days ago that Capt. McDougall, of the sealer E. B. Marvin, had charged Lieutenant Vernon Webb, of H.M.S. Nymphe, with addressing ungentlemanly language to him when his schooner was seized. This statement, it appears, was not correct, and an injustice was thereby done to Mr. Webb. Captain McDougall says he had no conversation with the latter at the time of the seizure.

The Comus club's first dance of the season takes place at the Philharmonic Hall to-morrow evening. A large number of invitations have been issued and if possible a more enjoyable evening than ever will be spent. Prof. Pferdner will as usual supply the music.

Cost of Slapping Faces.

In the Provincial Police Court this morning, before Justices of the Peace Robert Ward and William Dalby, the charge against Richard Price for slapping Mary Williams in the face at Parson's Bridge, was heard. After listening to the evidence, the court fined Price $2, and $3 costs.

Cutting Rates.

To secure a larger share of the passenger traffic to the Orient, the Upton line steamers have reduced the rates on Chinese passages from B. C. ports to Hong Kong to $45, as against $50 charged by the C.P.R. The big company will probably still get a fair part of the trade, as the Chinese like a fast and big boat.

Land Surveyors' Exams.

A meeting of the board of examiners for the examination of candidates for admission to practise as Provincial land surveyors in the Province of British Columbia will be held at the office of the Hon. Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, Victoria, on Wednesday, the 7th day of October, proximo, as provided by the "Provincial Land Surveyors' Act, 1891."

They Had a Lively Time.

While Provincial Officer Campbell was off duty from Esquimalt Saturday, two toughs went in for such enjoyment as suited them. They "stood up" one of the bandsmen of the Warspite, and stole whiskey, clothes and other articles. Officers Campbell and J. Hunter put an end to the sports' career yesterday by locking them up. They will appear before the court to-morrow morning.

Horse Poisoning.

Last Saturday night some malicious person or persons entered the premises of Archie McConnell, six miles from Kamloops, on the Nicola road, and poisoned three valuable imported horses, viz., the well known blood mares, Portion Knight and Rosa Manfield, and a two-year old stallion from Butrolph, the celebrated blood stallion. Rewards have been offered for the conviction of the miscreant.

Innes' Famous Band.

Madison Square Garden was last night filled with the strains of "popular" music following the exit of the Thomas orchestra. The occasion was the opening of a series of concerts by Innes' band, led by Mr. F. N. Innes, who has been known to the public as a trombone soloist. The band was received with marked favor and liberal applause. Leader Innes plays one of his own compositions on the trombone. —New York Mail and Express.

After the general business of the evening was over enthusiastic speeches, made by the visiting brethren, were heartily received. Lodge adjourned at 11 o'clock to meet again next Friday evening.

Got on the Right Trail.

John Cleary was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Stroud Redgrave on an old charge of stealing a number of carpenter's tools from D. O. Patterson, A. Patterson and L. Gebo. The theft occurred as far back as the 18th of last month, since which time Officer Redgrave has been following up a rather weak clue, but one which proved to be the right one. Mr. Redgrave has done some excellent detective work during the last couple of months, proving himself from his "sure finds" a veritable sleuth hound of the law. Cleary alleges that he bought the tools, and asked for a remand till to-morrow for the purpose of proving that statement.

A Strong Feature.

A telegram from Tacoma states that the management of the Tacoma Exposition have specially engaged Miss Emma Thursby to sing on Saturday, British Columbia day, on the occasion of the big excursion from this province. This will be a special feature of the event, and should be a big drawing card.

Redgrave-Gibson.

Mr. Harold Redgrave, the Provincial Constable for the Interior, was married at Donald last week to Miss A. Gibson, of Hartlepool, England, a sister of Mrs. Gordon Sutherland, of Donald. The ceremony was performed at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Mr. Way. The bride, who has been in Donald about eight months, is deservingly popular, and the groom, well known all through British Columbia, has many friends. The couple, who have been spending their honeymoon in this city, leave for home this evening.

Miss Emma Thursby's Loss.

Miss Emma Thursby, the songstress, is here again, but not for the purpose of singing. Her mission is to search for her trunk, which has been missing since her last engagement here. It was then thought that the trunk had been put on board the China steamer by mistake, and instructions were telegraphed after the steamer to take and send back the missing property. An answer has now been received stating that the trunk could not be found on board the steamer, and the presumption is that a theft has been committed. The trunk contains several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds, jewellery and dresses, and is a serious loss to Miss Thursby.

New Crews for the Warships.

A dispatch from Montreal says: General Traffic Manager Olds, of the Canadian Pacific railway, being questioned about the statement that the Imperial Government had asked his company to give rates for the transportation of British troops across the continent, stated that it was slightly inaccurate as regards the movements of the troops. What the home authorities had requested, was a rate per head that would be charged by the company for the transportation of an entire man-of-war's crew from the Atlantic to the Pacific waters. The Canadian Pacific railroad officials surmise that it is men from ships in the Atlantic service going out on commission, and that the admiralty desire to test the carrying capacity and speed of the Canadian trans-continental line.

From the naval authorities here it is learned that new crews will come out by the way of the C.P.R., for the ships on this station and that the old crews will go home by the same route. One of the ships will go to Vancouver to bring the crews to Esquimalt.

Jack Tars on a "Jamboree."

The British sailors who arrived in the city on last night's west train have had quite a lively time during their trip from the coast. They number in all eighty-three, and a few of their number who secured some whiskey on the line set in on Monday night to have a jolly time. They became intoxicated and began quarrelling. Near McGregor, when they were fighting on the platform, three of their number were thrown off the train, and it was thought they were seriously injured, as the train was running pretty fast. A telegram received from them, however, states that they were not seriously injured. Not satisfied with their experiences on the train, they decided, instead of going through yesterday as intended, to lay off in the city for a few days, and proceeded to celebrate their holiday by a grand drunk. The drunk ended in a free fight, and as a result one of their number lies in the hospital with a broken head and two are in the police station. The two who are in the hands of the police left the depot and journeyed to the Grand Union hotel, where they created a disturbance and refused to leave the hotel. The police were then called, and after a little resistance succeeded in lodging the men in the cells.—Winnipeg Free Press.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

AN APOLOGY TENDERED

To Captain McDougall by Lieutenant Adams of the Nymphe.

Readers of the TIMES will remember that Capt. McDougall of the sealing schooner E. B. Marvin, stated when that vessel arrived from Behring Sea that one of the lieutenants of the Nymphe had made use of a very strange expression. It will also be remembered that both lieutenants denied to press representatives that any objectionable language was used.

Last evening Lieutenant Adams had a meeting with Capt. McDougall, the outcome of which is explained in the following letter:

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 5th, 1891.

To the Editor of the DAILY TIMES:—

Dear Sir—Referring to the denials of the lieutenants of Her Majesty's ship Nymphe, of having used objectionable remarks to me, I have to inform you, and the public through you, that it was Lieutenant R. P. Adams, of H. M. S. Nymphe, who made the remark to me "that England was not going to war for you bloody Canadians," and that Lieut. Adams has tendered me an apology, before witnesses, for the above remark, which apology I have accepted. Yours very truly,

C. McDOUGALL,
Master British schooner E. B. Marvin.

The above should finally set this matter at rest. There have been accusations and denials in plenty, but the hard facts seem to have been arrived at at last.

NOT EXEMPT FROM TAX.

An incident connected with the arrival in this port of the U.S. survey steamer McArthur, has arisen, which may cause some considerable deliberation on the part of the heads of the Canadian and United States governments.

The McArthur came to an anchor off the outer wharf last evening, and several Chinamen, servants of the officers, started to go ashore, but were stopped at the wharf by the customs officers. This morning Ensign Key of the McArthur waited on Collector Milne and asked that permission to land might be accorded to the Chinese, as they were duly enlisted men in the service of the United States, and therefore, in the officer's opinion, allowed to land in Canada without the payment of the $50 tax.

Collector Milne held differently. The law, he says, distinctly states that no person of Chinese origin shall be allowed to land in Canada without payment of the tax, except in the case of representatives of governments, their families and servants, and in one or two other cases, but the collector did not think exemption would apply in this instance. However, he very politely requested the officer to place his complaint in writing, and gave to him the address of the chief controller of Chinese at Ottawa, in order that the question might be settled. Pending the arrival of an official decision, Collector Milne agreed to allow the Chinamen to land if the captain of the McArthur would put up $50 for each one, as a guarantee that they would not be left here. By no other way could he grant the permission asked for and although the United States officer was far from pleased, he was obliged to submit to the inevitable.

A TERRIBLE FALL.

Down Forty Feet to the Cement Pavement—Two Men Seriously Injured.

This morning two painters employed by Mr. J. W. Mellor, on the front of the new Brunswick Hotel, fell 40 feet to the cement sidewalk below, a sling giving away being the cause of the accident.

The men were Sydney Sturdy and John Weiner, and both had a remarkably close call. The latter succeeded in grasping a rope in his descent, and the force of his fall was broken slightly, but the palms of his hands were badly torn, and he received a severe bruising. Sturdy was much more seriously injured. He struck heavily, his right leg doubling beneath him, the ankle bones being terribly shattered, a compound comminuted fracture of the tibia and fibula being sustained. The unfortunate man was lifted into the commercial room of the hotel, and Dr. Ernest Hall was soon in attendance. The injured man was conscious, and made very little complaint of pain, except when the work of setting the leg was being done.

Both of the injured men are well known, and have had years of experience in painting. Mr. Mellor states that he only allows of first-class gear being used on his contracts. It is said that the bend which held the middle tackle slipped.

As soon as Sturdy could be moved, he was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. In view of the serious nature of the fracture, Dr. Ernest Hall called in Drs. Hall and Leitch, and the two last decided with the first physician that it would be necessary to take out the pieces of fractured bone. This was done, the patient being placed under the influence of chloroform. It is hoped that the leg will be saved, and if blood-poisoning does not set in, there is a chance of a cure being effected, although the hurt is a severe one.

A later examination of the ropes shows that it was a slipping hitch which caused the accident.

NEW COMPANIES.

Another Packing Company for the Skeena—Mining Incorporations.

Messrs. Jas. A. Carthew, Rod'k Finlayson, Wm. Dalby, Fred. J. Claxton and Meyrick Baukes have formed a company to be known as the Royal Canadian Packing Company. The principal place of business will be at Claxton on the Skeena River, and the capital stock will be $100,000.

The objects for which the company is formed are to carry on business as timber merchants, sawmill owners, fish packers, oil merchants, and especially to manufacture, buy, sell, refine, manipulate and deal in all kinds of fish oils, and to do all such things as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of these objects, to carry on a general business by wholesale and retail.

Messrs. Thomas Earle, M.P., W. J. Goepel, F. S. Barnard, M.P., Arthur Beanlands and N. P. Snowden have given notice that they desire to form a company to be known as the Lanark Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, Limited Liability. Their object is to acquire the rights and interests of the Selkirk Mining & Smelting Company, Limited Liability, in and to the Lanark mine, the Red Fox mine, the Isabella mine, the Dorothy mine, the Sutton mine, and the Sprague mine, and all and every other real and personal property of the said Selkirk Mining & Smelting Company, Limited Liability, situate, lying and being at or near the town of Illecillewaet, in the District of West Kootenay, or elsewhere in the said Province, for the sum of $120,000, to be paid for in fully paid-up shares of the Lanark Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, Limited Liability. The capital stock of the company is to be $200,000 divided into 8000 shares of $25 each.

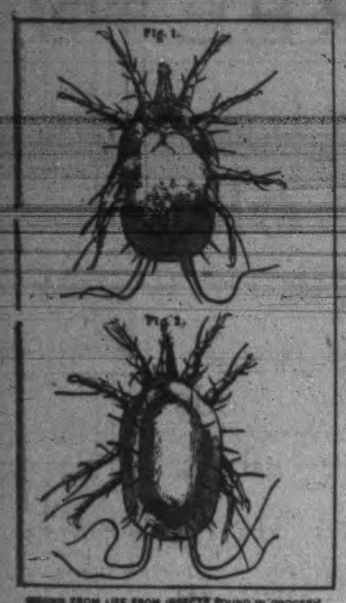
CHINESE - SUGARS; - WHAT - IT - IS - WE - MAY - BE - EATING!



DRAWN FROM LIFE FROM INSECTS FOUND IN GROCERY

In view of the introduction to the Province recently of considerable quantities of Chinese Sugars, it may be as well that the Public should be informed, on the very highest possible authority, of the danger that may be attendant upon their use.

Professor Cameron, Public Analyst, Dublin, a gentleman who has made it his special business to examine all kinds of Foreign Sugars, Refined and other, says that certain kinds of them should never be used. He states that they contain great numbers of DISGUSTING INSECTS, which produce a DISGUSTING DISEASE. Their shape is very accurately shown in the accompanying cut, which is magnified two hundred diameters. Figure 1 is the under side, and Figure 2 the upper. The Professor's description is as follows:—

"This insect ('the Acarus Sacchari') is a formidably organized, exceedingly lively, and decidedly ugly little animal. From its oval-shaped body stretches forth a proboscis terminating in a kind of scissors, with which it seizes its food. Its organs of locomotion consist of eight legs, each jointed and furnished at its extremity with a hook. In the Sugar its movements from one place to another are necessarily very slow, but when placed on a perfectly clean and dry surface, it moves along with great rapidity." He adds that the number of "Acari" found in Unrefined Sugar is "sometimes exceedingly great, and in no instance is the article quite free from either the insects or their eggs." He further says:—"The Acari Sacchari" do not occur in Refined Sugar of any quality, because they cannot pass through the charcoal filters of the Refinery, and because Refined Sugar does not contain any nitrogenous substance upon which they can feed."

COOLIE - MADE - AND - ALL - UNREFINED - SUGARS - SHOULD - NEVER - BE - USED!

Besides its being impossible for Canadian Labor to compete with Coolie Labor, rice fed and under paid, it is well known that Eastern Countries have always been the breeding ground for leprosy and all other loathsome and horrible human diseases, and hand labor there is so cheap that there is no inducement to employ machinery. Home Refined Sugar, on the contrary, is never touched by the human hand from the moment it reaches the refiner until it leaves him a perfectly safe and purified article.

Use, therefore, Only Home Refined Sugars; They Are Absolutely Unadulterated, Pure and Cheap.

CANADIAN NOTES.

Recent Events Reported from the Eastern Provinces.

The estimated loss by Thursday night's fire in Halifax is $250,000 and insurance $140,000.

Road agents held up the stage between Brussels and Wroxeter and secured a Dominion express package containing $125.

The Winnipeg Industrial Exhibition closed Saturday. The fair was a great success as far as exhibits were concerned, but wet weather interfered greatly with the attendance.

Premier Abbott was in Montreal Friday on private business. In an interview he declared it was not his intention to contest Argenteuil in order to secure a seat in the House of Commons, as he would not be able to stand night work.

The last issue of the Ontario Gazette contains an order-in-council of the Lieutenant-Governor, giving sanction to the redistribution of Toronto into six wards as proposed by the report of the civic reform committee and approved by the city council.

Mr. Pacaud publishes a letter in L'Electeur in which, in effect, he withdraws temporarily from his old position of political director till after the investigation. Pacaud has retained Hon. Geo. Irvine to represent him before the Royal Commission.

It is expected the picture of Gladstone painted by John C. Forbes, R.C., of Toronto, to the order of Canadian Liberals for presentation to the National Liberal Club of London, Eng., will be presented to the club early in November by either Wilfred Laurier or Oliver Mowat.

It is rumored that Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick is to resign his seat in Frontenac and will be elected by acclamation for Kingston, both political parties agreeing to this, provided the Kingston member is given a seat in the re-constructed Cabinet. The party leaders in Kingston know nothing as yet of any such proposition, and the rumor is not likely to be true.

The Maid of the Mist recently discovered evidence which goes to show that a pleasure yacht of some kind had passed over Niagara Falls. The eddy at the foot of the falls and along the Canadian shore was filled with pieces of wreckage. They looked like the upper work of a good-sized tug or yacht. Capt. Carter picked up several of the pieces. One was a section of a sliding door, with two bronze handles and a lock with the key still in it. No parts of the hull have yet been found.

The Canadian Pacific earnings for August, 1891, were:—Gross earnings, $1,734,988; working expenses, $1,014,382; net profits, $720,606. In August, 1890, the net profits were $677,576. For the eight months ending August 31, 1891, the figures are as follows:—Gross earnings, $12,447,042; working expenses, $8,109,495; net profits, $4,337,546. For the eight months ending August 31, 1890, net profits were $3,541,312. The earnings and expenses of the New Brunswick railway are included in both years.

At a meeting called in Windsor to discuss the political union between Canada and the United States, a resolution was adopted contrasting Canada's finances and population with those of the United States, and stating that "this unfortunate state of affairs is due almost entirely to the fact that we are divorced, politically and commercially, from the continent of which we form an important part, and that to secure our proper place with respect to the trade of the continent, a political union with the United States is necessary."

NELSON NOTES.

Interesting News Taken From the Miner's Columns.

Ainsworth, not to be behind other towns in West Kootenay, has now a board of fire wardens.

A number of claims in Hot Springs district have been bonded this week at figures ranging from $1000 to $10,000.

A bold robbery was committed the other night, H. M. Foster being held up for $207 in money and his watch and chain.

There are so many logs in the Davies-Sayward sawmill at Pilot Bay that there is hardly enough clear water left for the Galena to turn round in.

Joe Fletcher has a ranch on the lake above Ainsworth on which he grows something besides town-lot stakes. This year he has quite a large crop of potatoes, cabbages and other vegetables, all of good size and fully matured.

On her last trip from Bonner's Ferry the steamer Nelson made the run to Nelson, via Ainsworth, in 11 hours, making as high as 17 miles an hour at times. She is now tied up at the old city wharf pier, and will not be put in commission again until spring.

A wind and hail storm on Tuesday afternoon knocked a month's dividend out of the pockets of the shareholders of the Kootenay Lake Telephone Company. The company's wires were broken between Nelson and Toad Mountain, between Nelson and Balfour, between Balfour and Ainsworth, and Ainsworth and the mines in Hot Springs district.

The boys who own claims on Schroder creek believe that they have good things. W. W. Sprague, T. C. Wells, H. Cody, and John Thompson have one on which they have a four foot ledge exposed for 200 feet. The ore is galena and carbonates, the galena assaying $48 in silver and 69 per cent. lead. One of the owners said, when speaking of the ground, "Why, if we had that claim in Hot Springs district it would sell readily for $40,000."

Last week Eli Carpenter and Jack Seaton returned from a trip westward from Kaslo creek, having located on the west slope of the mountain some galena ledges. Assays of the ores from these ledges gave results varying from 125 to 175 ounces of silver to the ton. Quartz gangue with but little mineral in sight yielded about 65 ounces. On Monday last Eli Carpenter and E. A. Bielenberg, of Ainsworth, quietly packed up their blankets and left for the Slocan river, by way of Nelson. On Monday night about eight boats and probably 20 miners slipped away under the guidance of Jack Seaton and took the opposite route via Kaslo creek.

There is nothing new to chronicle from Toad Mountain. The Dandy is reported as looking very well, and the crosscut in the Silver King is said to be in ore, although not of very high grade. At the Grizzly Bear the usual amount of work was done during the week. Several sales are reported, but not of claims likely to be developed into mines. The Poorman mill on Eagle Creek has been running off and on for two or three weeks on ore that was extracted last year, and the mill on the Whitewater on Rover Creek continues to turn out from $50 to $75 a day in gold bullion. Keefer and Monaghan are at work on the Muldoon. The owners of the William Wallace, happy in the belief that "the world is theirs," are doing nothing more than exhibiting specimens of ore from that claim. Professor Parks has made a second visit to the Gallop-Proctor claims to the south of Balfour, which makes the owners think there is something in them. Prospectors are coming in from the hills, and it is evident that the tail end of the season of 1891 is fast drawing nigh.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Fire Losses.

During the week ending Sept. 24th the fire losses in the United States amounted to $1,157,000.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. FRED MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Insist upon having

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.

COAL

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.)

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

House and Steam Coal are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay where ships of the largest tonnage loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

QUOITS.

THE QUOITING MATCH OF THE SEASON.

The quoiting match at the fair grounds Saturday was lively and a decided success, immense interest being taken in it. There were seven entries, all the players being good representative quoiters of British Columbia. Mr. George Fairbrother was properly chosen judge and umpire. The game was 18 yards, 11 points, and was played off as follows: W. Henly beat Beddingham 11 to 9; Adamthwaite beat White 11 to 5; Marrion beat J. Henly 11 to 5. This left three, and Cox made up the two couples. Adamthwaite then beat Cox 11 to 7; Marrion beat the younger Henly 11 to 10, and in the final struggle Adamthwaite beat Marrion 11 to 6, and gloriously won the match and the medal. Adamthwaite and Marrion most decidedly upheld the reputation of the Spring Ridge Quoit Club.

THE GUN.

Yesterday may be said to have been the opening day of the pheasant season, and as a result every mother's son who could lay hands on a gun was out. Some of those mothers can't be proud of their sons, for they were more successful in killing sheep and wounding cattle than in popping the pheasant. No fewer than twenty-five sheep belonging to one firm were destroyed while the number worried by the curs attending the amateur hunters is very large. All this speaks for itself.

TO CLOSE THE SEASON.

The Union Gun club will hold a meeting this week for the purpose of winding up matters for the season.

A BIG BAG.

Messrs. Lynn and Perrin went out Prospect lake direction yesterday and returned to-day with a big bag of fish, flesh and birds. The first is represented by some beautiful trout, the second in a buck weighing 175 pounds and the third is made up of a good collection of game. They were about the luckiest of the parties who went out yesterday. Mr. Perrin, who is an Australian, is as ready with the gun or rifle as he is with the instruments of his profession (civil engineer) and is clever in both departments. Mr. Perrin is also an ardent sport.

THE JUDGES WAKE UP.

TWO DRIVERS RULED OFF THE TRACK FOR CROOKED WORK.

The Calgary Boys Take Home a Big Pot of Money—Malina Wins All the Races she Enters---Joe Wynne Out of Luck ---Incidents of the Meeting.

Before the programme was opened for Saturday's races the following decision was hung out on the judges' stand on the 5th heat, 2:50 class: The heat is awarded to Foundry Boy, time 2:50. Distance is waived as regards Johnny; Lady Mac ruled out. James Hickey, the driver of Lady Mac, shall be suspended for one year, and shall make good the damage to the sulky drawn by Johnny. This was received with some applause, althought many thought that Johnny should have been given the race, as he was well ahead and had every appearance of being able to keep the lead when the foul occurred. The little horse ran again, though, and took the heat.

Saturday turned out a remarkably good day, although it promised otherwise in the morning. The track was in good condition, the judges in good humor and the crowd large and orderly, although there was a policeman on duty whose zeal frequently exceeds his discretion. The programme commenced with:

The betting before the race was in favor of Christmas, who sold for 10 against the field, but on the horses appearing on the track the market was just reversed in favor of Midgard. In the start he took the lead in a fine trot, carrying himself easily and confidently, the other two horses following in processional order. There was no excitement in the race, till the home stretch, when Midgard was taking it easy with a long lead. Christmas made an unexpected spurt at the last quarter post, dashing upon Midgard rather furiously. Stone seemed to forget himself for once by lifting the lines and using the whip freely; Midgard broke a few feet from the wire, passing under it at a gallop, almost dead even with Christmas.—Time, 2:59.

The second heat made no change, except that Christmas took the lead and kept it, Midgard seeming to have lost confidence. Christmas took the heat in 59½.

The third heat was in processional order—Christmas, Midgard and Richard.

There was plenty of fun in this race, and lots of excitement, the betting being mainly on Rosie C. and Bishop Hero. Sleepy Tom was known to but a few; he is old, has very little style about him, but develops a gait in going that seems to cover the ground. He led at the start, with Rosie C. behind him, the rest in processional order. He held his nose forward for the half-mile, Rosie a close neighbor. Bishop Hero was doing good work, and would doubtless have passed the little black mare had he not gone up in the air. Rosie got the lead on the far side. Hero got down to work and passed Sleepy Tom for a second or two, but the old horse opened his eyes and made good his loss, coming in a good second to Rosie C. Time, 2:33 1-5.

In the second heat Molly Cooper changed drivers, Harry Stone taking over the lines. The mare is a pretty trotter, and fairly reliable, but she couldn't compete with those big free striders of the Bishop, nor the lightning action of Rosie C. The latter took a long lead at the start with Bishop Hero second, and making sure progress towards her. They passed the half mile together amid tremendous cheering, and travelled side by side to the quarter post when the old roan horse crept up, passed the black mare and took the pole to the finish. This victory for Bishop Hero was well and brilliantly earned. Time 2:32.

The third heat saw sleepy Tom withdrawn, although the race really rested with Rosie C. and Bishop Hero. Rosie C. kept a good lead to the quarter mile. Molly Cooper worked well in this heat, and would have taken it but for a bad break towards the finish, whereby she gave the heat to Bishop Hero who worked his way from the bottom of the list. Time 2:31.

The race now stood with two heats to the credit of Bishop Hero and one to Rosie C. It was a pretty race between the two horses till the half-mile had been passed, Rosie doing beautiful work, and Hero with that great grand covering stride of his keeping close behind her. The mare could have maintained the lead; that was evident to all, but the horse came up and passed at the half-mile. The thing was too clumsily done not to be noticed, but it was made worse when Clancy almost stopped her at the quarter post of the second round, and allowed Hero to come in at the finish.

The cheer which greeted the decision of the judges, declaring it no heat, showed that the latter had the public with them in a desire to uphold honest racing. Clancy was deposed and Gannon put behind the mare with ten minutes to be on the track again. The ten minutes became twenty, and it was dark. The judges then postponed the race till this morning, giving Rosie C into Harry Stone's charge.

This was won by Malina in a very pretty race.

BASEBALL.

The defeat of the Spokanes at Portland on Saturday settled the pennant race, and the Portlands are the winners. The result was due principally to Borcher's wildness and the unparalleled base running of the Portlands. Borchers could not properly locate the home plate, and 11 Portlanders walked to first base, laying the foundation for a walkover. Borchers used all his tremendous speed and sharp curves, but still the Oregonians hit him when hits were wanted. On the other hand, McNabb used slow curves, but was a conundrum to the ex-champions. The Spokanes hit the ball hard and often, but the industrious Portland fielders crossed the diamond and field like chain lightning, and the brilliant running catches of Abbey, the four-fly catches of Wilson and the pickups of Glenalvin and Darrah received all the applause that a noisy, demonstrative crowd composed of 6500 people could find time to give. Spokane led in the race for the pennant until last week, when the Portlands got on their feet and passed them. The standing of the teams is as follows: Portland, .587 per cent.; Spokane, .575; Seattle, .455; Tacoma, .380.

Harris, manager of the San Franciscans, is in Portland arranging for a match with a team from the Bay City and the Portlands.

LACROSSE.

In the lacrosse match at the exhibition grounds on Saturday between the junior teams of Westminster and Victoria, the home team won the first two goals and Westminster won the third and fourth. Victoria won the fifth, but lost the sixth. There was only five minutes in which to play the winning game, which the umpire gave to Westminster, although many said they had not won it. The game was one of the best ever played in the city, although the ground was in a terrible condition.

At Westminster on Saturday the home team defeated the Vancouverites by a score of three to one. Clark, of Victoria, acted as referee and gave entire satisfaction. This put the two teams on an evening footing for the championship. It is probable that the deciding game will be played here.

We are making special low prices for exhibition week only, commencing today, Saturday. Macaulay & Higginbottom, 74 Yates street.

We "press the button" and "do the rest" too—for six dollars per doz.—either cabinets or panels. "We" are Hall and Lowe.
